Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 05 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudier and milder today but staying mostly dry.

Today:
A little patchy light rain will spread southeast across the region this morning but otherwise it will be a dry day. Skies will be much cloudier than yesterday but it will feel a little milder with light winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying generally cloudy overnight, but a few clearer spells are likely, especially towards the south of the region. Mild and becoming breezier. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
Largely dry with bright spells during the morning, but becoming increasingly breezy. Rain will spread southwards during the afternoon, however southern counties may stay dry until after dark. Mild. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cooler on Sunday but largely dry with bright spells, though remaining breezy. Milder and cloudier on Monday with bright spells. Rain perhaps developing more widely on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.